

INTERNATIONAL ZERO WASTE CONGRESS PROJECT CONTEST OFFICIAL RULES

Basura Cero Puerto Rico, Inc., (“BCPR”) announces the International Zero Waste Congress, which will take place on November 17 and 18 of 2014 in the Puerto Rico Convention Center. It aims to promote and encourage the debate of ideas and concepts on the topic of Zero Waste and sustainability among young people, strengthening and disseminating practices for Zero Waste in Puerto Rico.

ELEGIBILITY

All youth from 16 to 35 years of age are eligible to participate.

INTRODUCTION

BCPR is looking for existing or undergoing projects focused on the implementation of zero waste concepts.

HOW TO REGISTER YOUR PROJECT?

Each participant must send a video (up to 2:00 minutes long) explaining their project via a Youtube or Vimeo link. The video must be in English or Spanish, with its respective Spanish/English subtitles.

Together with the video link, each person must send:

- Two or three images of the project with print quality (JPG, TIFF, 300 dpi)
- A document in pdf format, which will include:
 - Synopsis of the project
 - Project execution plan (production time, people necessary, impact, benefits and sustainability percentages).
 - Academic, artistic or professional profile of the participant.
 - Contact details (telephone e-mail, postal address)

All this information must be sent to the email: info@basuraceropr.org .

The title of the project and name of the author must appear in the subject of the message.

Registration of the project will be confirmed by an e-mail from the organization.

BCPR reserves the right to admit or not to admit a project sent to competition after studying if it adapts to the nature and rules of the call.

Registration of a project entails acceptance of the competition bases.

RIGHTS

BCPR wish to disseminate the Zero Waste Program and Projects to the broadest possible audience. In this sense, the authors of the projects grant the non-exclusive rights of their works and audiovisual materials presented to the competition organizers (Basura Cero Puerto Rico, Inc.), for them to prepare any promotion material with the following purposes:

- To publicize the competition in printed format, television, radio or the Internet.
- To create any material whose aim is to disseminate the competition.
- To exhibit it on the web pages of Basura Cero Puerto Rico, and any content website or social media that these institutions may use in the future to disseminate their activities.

The organizers of the competition undertake to use the work presented only for the purposes indicated above for the time they deem appropriate. Any commercial use of such projects is forbidden. The authors whose works appear in those materials will be clearly identified in credits.

All the artistic and commercial rights are reserved for the artists. Participants must obtain all the licenses necessary to use the possible material of third parties included in their work.

In this sense, participating artists, when entering into the competition, declare that they are legally authorized to transmit these rights to the extent stipulated, or that they have obtained the consent and all the necessary measures from third parties as demanded in the regulations that govern copyright, personal property rights or any other legal provisions, and that they are willing to provide proof of this at any time, if requested by the organizers.

The additional provisions with respect to the transmission of rights within the framework of agreements reached together with the participation in International Zero Waste Congress Project Contest, complement the rights transmitted but do not limit them in the absence of an express written agreement.

This agreement that draws up the participation terms in the International Zero Waste Congress Project Contest governed by Puerto Rico law and all the regulations used as legal reference. The jurisdiction is San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The data of the participants in the competition will form part of the mailing file belonging to Basura Cero Puerto Rico, and will be used to inform about its activities. They may exercise their rights of access, rectification and cancellation, by writing to the e-mail that will be enclosed in the relative mailing service.
